Sustainable & smart solutions for your coating process

Dear Katja Villnow,

from April 9 - 12, 2024, we will present our highlights at PaintExpo in Karlsruhe - from individual components to fully automated coating systems. A major focus will be on saving solvents, material and energy. Our products and systems also increase productivity in the coating process thanks to their simple operation and optimized process control.

We look forward to your visit! From February you can get your free trade fair ticket using the code on our website:

LIQUID COATING

Reduced time & material requirements for color changes

High-pressure double diaphragm pumps are an alternative to commercially available piston pumps which promises material savings during flushing and an improved spray pattern. In cooperation with our partners Oltrogge and Venjakob, we have optimized our Cobra high-pressure double diaphragm pump.

POWDER COATING

Quick color change & significant powder savings

The Italian company SPRECH has installed a powder coating system for its metal canopies. The result: "Within one working day, we are able to change fifteen to twenty different colors in just 6 minutes and with one operator. Since the start-up, we have already recorded significant powder savings, thanks to a 90% overspray recovery rate."

Efficient powder coating of household appliances

The Italian company Fratelli Gionchetti di Matelica has diversified their production with the powder coating of kitchen hoods and other household appliances. As the demand for color changes increased, they installed a special powder coating booth by WAGNER with a high degree of automation.
