

Beginner or expert. The right offer for every area of application.

The WAGNER Academy is the right partner for training and further education in the coating industry. Are you a coater, service or assembly specialist, material manufacturer or employee in technical sales? As one of the world's leading manufacturers of liquid and powder coating technology, we offer the right training program for every area of application.

You receive an all-round professional service – from training courses at our premises in Markdorf with a lively exchange of experience among participants from a wide range of companies to individually tailored training courses directly at your site. In addition to classic classroom training, WAGNER also offers online live seminars as well as the possibility of independent training in the WAGNER Online Academy.

WAGNER Academy Training Center

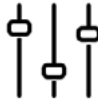

With our spacious training center at the Markdorf location, we offer the ideal conditions to acquire extensive know-how on the latest application technology - to help you master your daily challenges even more efficiently.
